

Call for Program Proposals

30th Annual Conference of SAEЕ: Southeastern Association for Employment in Education

January 28, 2009, KSU Center, Kennesaw State University

Deadline for Submissions: September 15, 2009

Greetings! The SAEЕ Board and Conference Committee would like to invite presentation proposals from interested speakers or facilitators. We encourage both SAEЕ members and those in fields relevant to our mission to submit a proposal. This year's conference will be one day (Thursday, January 28th) followed by the Kennesaw State University Teacher Job Fair on Friday, January 29th so program space is limited!

Please keep in mind, this year's theme is "Survivors in Education: Thriving in an Economic Jungle," and we would be most interested in topics that connect to our overall conference theme. Additionally, topics that appeal to both our university career services/faculty members AND K-12 HR professionals are most preferred. Please feel free to forward this proposal form on to interested colleagues.

Suggested topics to consider presenting or facilitating include (but are not limited to):

- Creative ways your school/university is accomplishing its goals in today's economy (ex.. low cost or no cost teacher recruitment and retention practices)
- Effective and positive staff development strategies
- Effective Reorganization: How to use your vision, values, and mission
- New recommendations for teachers in this climate: add on licensure, career alternatives to consider
- Joint session or panel with university and K-12 members on how we should be advising prospective teachers as they enter their job search
- Panel topic – How to best prepare/assist prospective teachers/how to maintain positive recruiting relationships, University, Career Services, Faculty, School System, Budget, Finance, DPI, DOE
